Borrel Bouvard Arthaud (BBA) designs and makes civil, administrative and military uniform trimmings. The firm works mainly on public military and government supply contracts in France and overseas, and for airlines. .

BBA carries on the activity of three companies: Ets Borrel, trimmings suppliers, founded in 1848 in Paris; Ets Bouvard, trimmings suppliers founded in 1886 in Lyon; and Ets Arthaud, specialists in gold-thread embroidery, founded in 1930 in Noirétable, in the department of the Loire. These three firms merged in 1997. The production site has been located in La-Chartre-sur-le-Loir since 1966.

Borrel Bouvard Arthaud is a branch of the Marck Group, a French manufacturing group which designs and markets uniform and equipment solutions for the public and private sector in France and overseas.
