The Société Française de Marbrerie Cochois is specialised in top-of-the-line decorative marbles: fountains, countertops, columns, fireplaces, staircases and kitchen and bathroom furnishings.

It has unique, complex know-how in cutting very hard marbles and granites. It creates unique pieces and installs the slabs of marble, natural stone and granite that it produces.

Since 1850, it has perfected its techniques for extracting and shaping marble, granite and onyx.

It works for prestigious institutions (the French National Assembly, Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, the Louvre Museum, etc.) and has a loyal clientele (major prestigious architecture and designer firms).
