The Protec Decors company proposes surface treatments for new or used metal items, such as polishing, chrome, nickel plating, gold plating, silver plating, painted decoration and metal patina.

The company stands out in its profession by its presence in all markets where its services are used – treatments for single pieces or very limited editions, new items, restoring antiques, works of art, showcases, interior decoration for aircraft, large pieces, etc.

It offers top-of-the-line services that have earned the company orders from major brands (fashions, spirits, etc.) and luxury hotels; it also works for the business aviation sector.

The company, which only works on order, is known within a network of designers and large companies that use its services. Research efforts are ongoing and the company works to reduce its environmental impact in the development of new finishings.
