Supplier to the Roche Bobois brand, the David Lange company has been producing contemporary furniture for 40 years. It stands out in the profession by its use of an exclusive, patented material, Daquacryl®, unique in the furniture world. The high level of expertise required for using it ensures product excellence.

The company markets 260 items of contemporary furniture in various materials and Daquacryl®. All these products are positioned in the high-end segment. Given its skills, the company has been called upon for special applications such as protective glass for objects exhibited in museums, windscreens for racing boats, etc.

Sheets of Daquacryl® are cut and applied on wooden supports. Human intervention is required at each production phase (machining, gluing, edge banding, assembly, fitting, lustring, packaging, etc.) and brings added value to the furniture, ensuring hand-crafted finishing and quality craftsmanship.
