At once a design studio, innovation laboratory and workshop working in symbiosis, the company offers its clients the complete management of creative projects, from conceptualisation to production. Thanks to its pioneering spirit, Atelier Flory Brisset combines fine crafts, technical inventiveness and digital innovations, designing and developing manufacturing or transformation processes for unexpected materials to achieve the unimaginable for its clients.

The studio challenges traditional savoir-faire and fine crafts in light of innovative technologies and materials in order to root our works in an era of contemporary creation. It breaks the classical and academic rules of technique to develop methods and ways of approaching artistic creation.
