The Herzo house has built its reputation on its exceptional know-how in jewellery creation thanks to a mastery of each step from design to the production of its works.

The company is specialised in the creation, design and production of jewellery: rings, brooches; necklaces, adornments, bracelets and gold watches with stones and diamonds.

For years, Eric Herzo has surrounded himself with a team of craftsmen who are highly qualified experts in their fields and who work toward excellence every day with irreproachable precision.

The company handles all production phases, notably the complex techniques of gold casting, working drawings, glazing and setting. It produces its own cold moulds, a highly difficult and rare technique, and makes jeweller with complex structures, notably rings and adornments.

It has an established clientele and has locations in Paris and Lyon, two capitals of French jewellery. After its domestic success, the company is now going international.
